

RETHINKING HEALTH

Building Bridges to Better Health: Strengthening Community Partnerships

HealthVisions Midwest of Fort Wayne is holding its third annual ReThinking Health Breakfast. Our breakfast brings together community leaders and advocates to delve into the crucial topic of health equity through an engaging panel discussion. Our panelists this year include: Sarah Strimmenos (Foellinger Foundation), Meg Distler (St. Joseph Community Health Foundation), Angela Stanley (Community Foundation of Greater Fort Wayne) and Kendra Klink (The James Foundation). By sponsoring this event, you align our brand with our commitment to creating healthier, more equitable communities. Your support helps facilitate this important conversation and fosters tangible change in the lives of individuals and families across our region. Together, we can reshape the landscape of health access and outcomes for all.
